English – Friday 19th June

SPaG Starter:

Circle the inverted commas in the passage below.

"We need to turn left here, Dad," said Layla. "Otherwise we will end up going the wrong way again!"

"Are you sure, Layla?" asked Dad. "I'm pretty sure we need to turn right!"

Read this sentence. Underline the subordinate clause.

We are going to Cornwall on holiday because we like the scenery there.

Magical Stories:

Settings

In the story, Sammy enters a Tree Goblin birthday party. Highlight all of the things that Sammy can see.

In the blink of an eye, Sammy found himself inside the trunk of a large tree. Colourful balloons, bunting and banners decorated the room and loud music, that made you want to dance, filled the warm air.

All around the room small, strange-looking people, wearing brown tweed dungarees covered in toadstools, leaves and roses, danced and sang with great gusto and joy. Their large pointy ears were hidden slightly by their bushy multi-coloured hair and curly-toed velvet shoes hid their enormous, hairy feet. Around their necks each one wore a necklace covered in the most interesting of charms and trinkets.

In the middle of the room, a magnificent feast was laid out on a large woven willow table. There were pinecone truffles, sweet sap sorbets, nettle fritters and the finest pollen-puddings. In the centre was an enormous cake covered in long-grass icing and on the top over a hundred candles burned brightly.

Can you draw a picture of the goblin birthday party below and label it with all of the things that Sammy can see?

Shoe-box and flower-pot worlds

Let's get creative! Find a box (a shoe box is an ideal size) or a flower pot and make your own goblin world. You can base it on the Tree Goblin setting if you like or you can create your own world for a different goblin like a Sky Goblin, Sea Goblin or those pesky Puddle Goblins (use any idea you like). Below are some ideas to inspire you. Can you guess the story they are from?

Art – Friday 19th June

Today, we're going to be looking at the artist Sonia Boyce.

Sonia Boyce was born in London and describes herself as a British Afro Caribbean artist.

Sonia Boyce often feels different, being a Black woman in a mainly White country. A lot of her work shows her relationships with friends and family because these relationships have always made her feel less alone and less different.

She has always been keen to show positive (good) images of Black women in her work, painting herself in many of her pictures.

Her work often shows bold patterns and bright colours because this reflects her Caribbean family background.

The Ticket Machine

In one of Sonia Boyce's art works from 1990, she made The Ticket Machine.

On pressing the 'Ticket' button, a postcard popped out, explaining important memories and events that different people – strangers – had experienced.

What Are Memory Postcards?

Imagine your postcard popped out of The Ticket Machine.

What would your postcard say or show?

Think about:

when you last cried

an important day

learning to do something for the first time

important people in your life

starting school

family holidays

moving house

embarrassing moments

a special place

funny memories

moving school

leaving your home country

a proud moment

Choose an important memory, moment or experience.

When I was a little girl I used to spend my summers with my aunt Mary. I remember her garden being huge. My sister and I used to go and pick raspberries off the bush and hide them in our pockets to eat later in the day. I can remember so vividly the colours and smells of my summers there. I remember sitting on floor in her porch, with the breeze whistling through the window. We would play Uno for hours, while our cousin would show off his talents on his guitar by strumming away. By far those summers are my happiest memories.

Will you describe your memory or draw it?

Your task

Create a memory postcard. You can either draw or write about your memory (or to both!).
